Traditions

As Bradley celebrated its 86th Founder's Day in the new Mabel Dingleline Music Center all school President Mary Deakin stressed the importance of Bradley traditions. Later in the year President Reagan in his State of the Union address also stressed the importance of American traditions. The year 1983-1984 marked a move back towards traditions.

According to Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary a tradition is the handing down of information, beliefs and customs by word of mouth or by example from one generation to another without written instruction; an inherited pattern of thought or action (as a religious practice or a social custom); a cultural continuity in social attitudes and institutions.

In its 86 years Bradley has grown and changed and yet in many ways it has remained very much the same as it was in 1897. Bradley is still a small, personal school where students come to learn and grow as individuals. The unique (cont. on pg. 6) academics encourage development on a personal level as well. Bradley's atmosphere, one of its oldest traditions, has helped build strong friendships between its students as they help each other grow and learn. All of this happens on a small campus under the watchful eye of the beautiful old buildings which have seen all of Bradley's sons and daughters pass through their doors.

Over the years traditions such as Homecoming, Parent's Weekends, Campus Carnival, Garrett Week, Greek Week, the ANAGA, All-School Elections and many others have continued to flourish. These traditions link the years together and show us the many similarities that Bradley students past and present share. As some traditions like Basketball games in the Fieldhouse pass; new ones like Latino Week and CWA Week become established. On a smaller scale lifestyle at Bradley in general is traditional to this University. The everyday tasks which seem so natural to college students are traditional to students at Bradley and many are traditional to all college students.

However, the re-establishment of the ANAGA during this school year is probably the best example of this new reverence towards tradition. After a long struggle the yearbook did survive thanks to the caring student body who did not want Bradley's oldest tradition to die. A yearbook helps establish traditions and preserve them for future generations.

As we move on after Bradley University let us hope and pray that the traditions which were important to us continue to support this school. Traditions are the backbone of this University and to America, in general. Bradley traditions are a large part of what we will remember when we look back on our college years. As we move on along the different paths we all will travel we must remember how important a part Bradley has played in all our lives and how those special Bradley traditions added a special touch to our college experiences.

HAIL, RED AND WHITE ...

F. Thompson

Lift up your hearts and sing!

Lift up thy light!

Let all your voices ring!

Hail, Red and White!

Red for courage, strength, and right,

White for Purity,

Shining as a beacon light,

For the University!

Go onward, ever onward!

Let courage and truth prevail!

To Bradley University

All hail, hail, hail!

Traditions

The year 1983-1984 was a year of restructuring and development for the ANAGA. The small staff worked diligently throughout the year to produce a high quality book. From the very beginning everyone involved knew that the task was going to be very difficult and despite several set-backs and at first no compensation from the University the staff remained determined and dedicated to the book.

However, if it were not for the support of the Student Body of Bradley University the job of producing any yearbook would have been impossible. And so we dedicate this book to all the students who supported us throughout the year. We hope you are as proud of the yearbook as we are!

STUDENT LIFE

Moving In

Moving in started at home, saying good bye to the bedroom my little brother would be taking over. It had been sad to see my high school friends off to other colleges, but I was anxious to begin at Bradley. Upon arrival, a parking place was hard to find. Once parked it seemed as if would take forever to get all of my luggage into my new room. Luckily there were people from the fraternities and sororities to help incoming freshmen move in. My roommate had already moved in and had chosen a bed but was not there. I had wondered all summer what my roommate would be like. It was difficult to think of living in such a small room. Trying to find a place for everything I brought was nearly impossible. It was nice to think I'd be on my own, but I felt lonely not knowing anyone on campus. After showing my parents around it was hard to say good bye to them. When I finally settled in and met my roommate, I knew I'd have a good year.

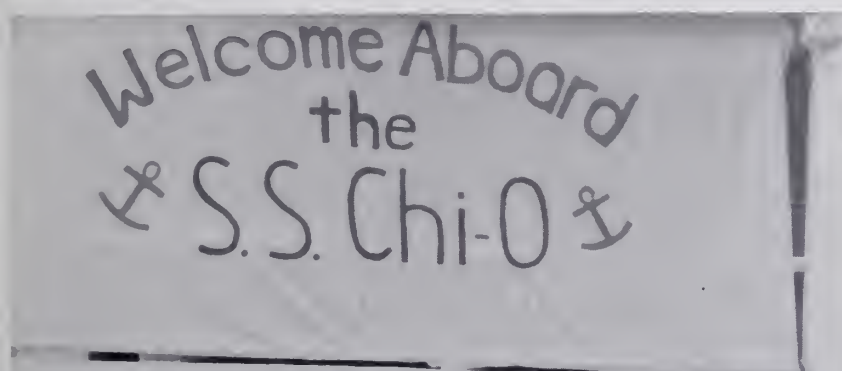

Home Sweet Home?

Rush Week

Despite a decreasing enrollment the number of people who pledged to the greek system increased. A total of 243 young men "jumped" for the sixteen different fraternities. Rush week itself was filled with it's customary handshakes, house songs, and calling out parties. Long and sometimes monotonous hours are involved to complete rush. This year organizers of rush week were spared alot of paperwork. For the first time the scheduling of who goes to which house was done on the computers.

Bradley Faculty And Families A Tradition

They are the friendly people who tell you things you don't know. They may even tell you things you don't care to know. Sometimes they tell you how much you don't know, and other times they say you're doing all right. Occasionally they are dreaded beings, embarrassing you with what you don't know or how badly you do something - and they make many demands.

So who are "they", these people who affect your life so much? They are the university faculty, and they are people too. Seeing a faculty member, perhaps at a basketball game, brings the sudden realization they "they" are no different than "us".

Faculty happy hours at fraternities and Friday happy hours at the student center give students and faculty a chance to meet under different circumstances. Both students and faculty often leave these exchanges with a greater respect for each other.

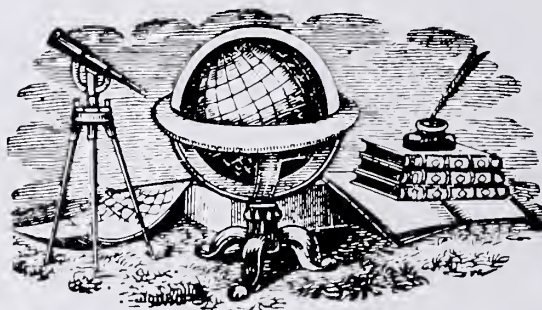

A new program for 1983-84 was the Faculty Fellow. Dorm floors, particularly freshman floors, received a Faculty Fellow. This was a faculty member who would be there for moving in, would pay visits to floor members, or have lunch with them. A prominent Faculty Fellow was Dr. John Fendrich, Faculty Fellow for Wyckoff two. Dr. Fendrich was often seen eating lunch amidst a crowd of freshmen in Harper cafeteria. One freshman said he liked the program because it offers a chance to really meet a professor.

Some students have a unique relationship as they are related to faculty. A combination of more exposure to Bradley and economic benefits cause many families to have many members here.

Bradley's faculty - an integral part of the Bradley tradition.

During the weekends of September 2-4 and 8-11, the Bradley University Theatre treated audiences to a production of The Music Man. Under the direction of Dr. Marriott, the cast of 69 won standing ovations night after night. The choreography of Paula Petrini and the orchestra, led by Molly McCullough, complimented the work of leads Gregory Lhamon, Amy Smith and the whole cast.

TOBACCO ROAD, by Jack Kirkland was Bradley University Theatre's second production of the school year. The plot revolved around the Lester family, who lived on Tobacco Road during the depression. The play showed a pathetically poor family who watched out only for their own selfish interests. The satirical humor stemmed from the fact that there was no family commitment at all. Directed by Don Marine, TOBACCO ROAD ran from Oct. 14-23.

Aesop's Falables

Right at the close of the first semester the Bradley University Theatre presented Ed Graczyk's, Aesop's Falables. Directed by Richard Marriot, the rock musical was geared toward children but appealed to Bradley students too. The play was based on old fables such as The Tortoise and the Hare, and The Country Mouse and the City Mouse. The fables were turned into falables with a twist of the music that would capture the attention of the younger and older generations alike.

Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godot qualifies as the strangest play of the 83-84 theatre season.

It is a haunting play of unsolvable complexities and at times ridiculous situations. Waiting for Godot has been compared to Yeats and Gregory in its lyricism. Using humor, abstractions, bewilderment, exasperation, and philosophy it challenged the observer's imagination and intellect.

Directed by Cary Libkin, Waiting for Godot started the second half of the theatre season running Jan. 20-22 and Jan. 26-29.

Whatever opinion an observer has of Beckett's work, most would agree that Waiting for Godot was a thought-provoking evening of entertainment.

Romeo & Juliet

During the week of March 2-11 Bradley Theatre produced William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. During the run, the cast of 35 students performed not only for the general audience but also groups of area high school students.

Directed by Richard Marriott, the production challenged the skills of Bradley's best thespians. The ingenious design of the set allowed a fast paced performance with no lengthy scene changes. Despite its complexity, the play was executed in such a way that both young and old could appreciate its quality.

Leading roles were Vince Viverito Jr. as Romeo, Julia A. Escher as Juliet, Steven K. Behrens as Benvolio, Steven R. Sturm as Lord Capulet, and Ed O'Neill as Friar Laurence.

Talley's Folly

On the weekends of April 13-15 and 27-29 the Bradley Theatre Department presented the Pulitzer Prize winning play Talley's Folly. Directed by James Wilhelm, the production featured the talents of Steven R. Sturm as Matt Friedman and Teresa Noverr as Sally Talley.

This journey into the South finds Matt as he returns to the place where he and Sally had their affair so that he might take her as his bride. Sally is at first reluctant as the couple reveal their painful pasts to each other in a game of emotional cat-and-mouse. Sturm and Noverr brought the 1983-84 season to a touching and poignant close leaving the audience waiting impatiently for next year to begin.

Greek Side Story

Greek Week this year was held during the week of Sept. 25. To start off the week of festivities Theta Zi hosted the annual kick-off party on Monday night. Participation points were given out Tuesday for each fraternity and sorority that decorated their house in relation to the theme, "Greek Side Story". Each house also designed their own banner in correlation to their yard decorations. Olin Hall was the center of attraction Wednesday afternoon as each house completed in the Greek god and goddess skits. On Friday evening, for the first time, an all Greek dance was held at the Peoria Civic Center. To finish off the week, the Greek Games were held Saturday afternoon in the quad. Delta Upsilon and Alpha Chi Omega were the fraternity and sorority who placed first for highest overall point total. Saturday night traveling parties, held at Pike, AEPi, Sigma Nu, TKE, Theta Chi, and DU, brought the greeks together once again to conclude another successful Greek Week.

Parents of Bradley students flooded the campus for Dad's Weekend, Oct. 22 and 23. Mothers and fathers were greeted by President Martin Abegg, who awarded the Dad of the Year plaque to Charles Slice - father of freshman Stacy Slice. The parents were treated to a Symphonic Winds Concert, synchronized swimming by the Aquadettes and a performance of Tobacco Road. The highlight of the weekend was a buffet dinner and entertainment by the Glenn Miller Orchestra, where fathers and daughters could dance to such classics as String of Pearls, In the Mood, Tuxedo Junction, and Pennsylvania 65000.

Concerts Rock Fieldhouse and Ballroom

1983-84 was a year for the Activities Council to test concerts on campus. The Tubes was the first major concert of the year. Combo Audio opened the show with their high-energy brand of techno-pop synthesized music. But the crowd was there for the Tubes, and they made it known as the band took the stage. The rest of the evening was filled with madness and mayhem as Fee Waybill led his musicians ... and a chorus line of scantily clad girls ... through renditions of both new and classic Tubes music. Their unique blend of theatricality and high-energy music was a perfect beginning for a concert series.

The next major concert was in conjunction with Fall Parent's Weekend. Comedian-juggler Michael Davis (who has performed on the Tonight Show and at the White House) opened for the legendary Glenn Miller Band. Parent and students alike danced the night away to golden tunes like "Pennsylvania 6500", "Moonlight Serenade" and ... of course ... "In the Mood" — big band at its best.

Two minor concerts sponsored by ACBU's Mainstage Committee featured a pair of upcoming Chicago area bands. Bradley favorites Phil n' the Blanks brought their zaniness to the Student Center Ballroom November 12. Then, early in the spring, B.B. Spin rocked the Ballroom with upbeat rhythm and blues. Doc Severinsen and Steve Landesberg were the highlight of Spring Parent's Weekend. Severinsen and his band Xebron brought the sound of jazz-fusion to the Robertson Memorial Fieldhouse. Landesberg's comedic talents left students and their parents laughing and wanting more of one of the best Parent's Weekend shows in a long time.

This year was a touchy one for concerts at Bradley. Although many students called out for more major shows, attendance was not what it could have been. Laboring under many financial difficulties, the Activities Council worked diligently to satisfy the wants and needs of the student body as well as the financial requirements of the Bradley administration.

Halloween Celebrations

Once again Bradley students found Fredonia Ave. the place to be during the Hallowing weekend. Friday was the night for the whole campus to dress up. Costumes ranged in appearance from the scary and outrageous to the humorous and crazy. There were band parties to be found at Theta Chi and Alpha Epsilon Pi. The main attractions of the weekend were the numerous traveling parties. Fredonia was lined with people in Halloween garb, drinking their favorite beverages. The holiday for witches and warlocks was properly celebrated at B.U.

Founder's Day Celebrated In New Music Center

At least one day out of the year, Bradley University takes time out to look at and honor its traditions. On October 27, the 87th anniversary of the founding of Bradley was celebrated. All classes after two were cancelled to accomodate the Founder's Day ceremonies, which were held in the Dingeldine Music Center. Highlights included addresses by William Robertson, president of the Bradley National Alumni Association, Mary Deakin, student body president, and Bradley President Martin Abegg. Next a performance of A Mighty Fortress is Our God was given by the Bradley Chorale. Following were the awards.

Steinem Speaks For CWA Week

The Council for Women's Awareness sponsored Women's Awareness Week Nov. 14-21. The highlight of the week was an appearance by Gloria Steinem, feminist and editor of Ms. magazine, who spoke at the Student Center and then autographed her new book at the book store. Monday night a rape prevention clinic was given by Cathy Corl of Chimera, an organization that trains women in self-defence. The workshop began with a movie on acquaintance rape. Then Ms. Corl gave some self-defence tips. On Wednesday a panel on racism and sexism discussed some historical aspects of the feminist movement. The panel then talked about the role of black women in the feminist revolution. Also during the week there was readings by poet Lynette seator and the movie "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman" was shown.

Latino Week Informs Students

Oct. 31-Nov. 4 was "Bradley Goes Latino Week". Sponsored by The Bradley University Latino Student Association, the week was filled with various activities. On Monday, Dr. Mauricion Salaun, United States ambassador to Nicaragua from 1977 to 1979, spoke about "Experiences of a United States Ambassador to Nicaragua". Tuesday night a group discussion was held to discuss problems of Latin America. The film LUCIA was shown twice on Wednesday. The movie is a three part film about the Cuban struggle for liberation. Francisco Campbell, the First Secretary of the Nicaraguan Embassy, was suppose to speak Thursday night but the lecture had to be cancelled. It was rescheduled for later in the year. Friday saw a folkloric dance group from Chicago, Casa Chile, perform in the Student Center Ballroom. They included dances from various Latin American countries.

Student Works

The works which appear in the Student Works portion of the 1983-1984 Anaga have been selected from the issues of Broadside that were published during the academic year.

Broadside is the literary magazine of Bradley University and this year it was run by Editor, Dan Loughry. He was assisted by a staff of approximately 25 people throughout the year.

A Great Way Around Herpes

by aJ

"Why doesn't everyone else do this? It's so incredibly stimulating!" Francesca squirmed a little on the camel skin rug. She was wearing a long-sleeve, ankle-length angora dress. Todd lounged beside her, wearing red jockeys and a camel hair brush.

"Well don't stop now!" pleaded Francesca. Her thoughts were running ahead ... Todd chuckled. "This is the part I like best, next to the end, of course. I love to torment you, bringing you close again and again before finally letting you go."

He began to stroke her again; long, vigorous sweeps of the brush, from her shoulders down her arms. Next he moved to her back, stopping short of the waist line each time. He rolled her over and continued, and she jumped each time he brushed a breast. Then he started to stroke her from just above the knee to the hem of her dress. The crackle of built-up static could be heard at the end of each stroke.

"Do it this time," moaned Francesca. Todd teased. "Maybe." Rolling her over again, Todd began to brush Francesca's dress from the middle of the back over the buttocks and down the backs of the thighs. He worked from her spine out toward the sides, approaching just a bit closer each time. Francesca began to tremble. Finally he turned her once more.

Continuing the pattern, Todd alternated sides with each stroke, and began to inch his way toward the middle. At last he reached the center, and turning the brush the long way he began to stroke from the down between the breast, through the indentation between Francesca's thighs, and down to her feet. By the third stroke, Francesca arched her back slightly as the brush passed from her waist to her thighs.

"Naughty, naughty," chided Todd. "You know that's cheating." He paused for a moment to punish her, but began again when Francesca's half-crazed eyes flew open. "It's almost time," she breathed between gasps. "I know it," came the answer.

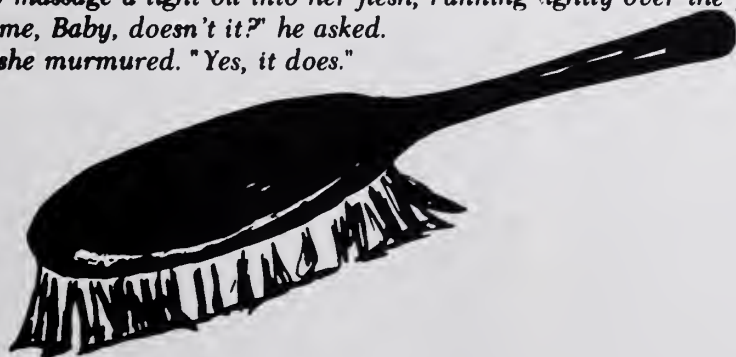

"Are you going for it?"

"Yes."

The afternoon sun broke through the window, revealing a network of very fine wire that covered Todd's body from neck to toe. In one motion, he lifted Francesca to her feet, peeled off her dress to reveal her glistening body, and pressed her close to him from shoulder to knee. As the electricity flowed between the two bodies, Francesca moaned loudly in ecstatic pain and pleasure. Her head rolled back and she went rigid for a few moments, and then slumped to the floor intensely satisfied. A spiderweb of red welts began to appear on her skin.

Todd began to massage a light oil into her flesh, running lightly over the pale scars. "It gets better every time, Baby, doesn't it?" he asked.

"Yes, it does," she murmured. "Yes, it does."

Caught In The Act!

Contrary to what many people might think, college life just is not all work and no play. In between ALL the hours spent studying, ALL the classes which are diligently attended and ALL of the scholarly books read purely for self-improvement, students manage to steal a few moments of fun and relaxation.

Drive around town in parades, play a game of tug-o'-war solitaire or jump face first off a table on the quad . . . it's all in the name of education! In '83-'84 Bradley students were no different, or any less crazier, than before.

Stealing a minute of fun, a minute of recreation, students found release in all kinds of ways. And the ever vigilant cameras of the ANAGA caught them IN THE ACT!

ACBU

The Entertainment Connection

The fall semester was a busy one for ACBU with a schedule that included two major fieldhouse shows; The Tubes and then the Glenn Miller Orchestra with opening act comedian/juggler Michael Davis. The weekend movie series continued with many blockbuster films including Tootsie, Bambi, Absence of Malice and Conan the Barbarian.

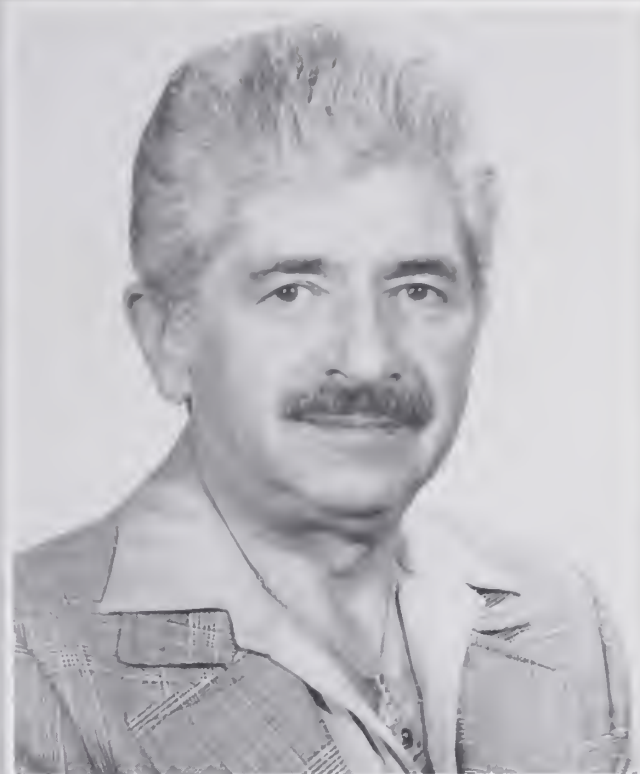

The lecture series had one of its strongest seasons ever beginning with Bill Bergey, former Eagle football, star who spoke about motivation and his humorous experiences in the NFL. Shere Hite, renowned author and sex researcher, filled the Student Center Ballroom to nearly its capacity, and Jack Glocer, Auschwitz survivor, mesmerized the audience with his stories of courage and survival.

Robert Guralnik opened the performing arts series with an inspiring performance of some of Chopin's most famous works while dramatically portraying the composer himself in a monologue. Two shows at the Peoria Civic Center brought world famous spanish dancer Jose Greco and the magical puppetry of Compagnie Philippe Genty. Finishing off the semester, jansdances performed their unique style of modern dance ot vintage Beatles music as ACBU's contribution to Bradley's Fall Festival of the Arts.

The mainstage series gave students a chance to be in the limelight in Talent Night and then brought Phil 'n' the Blanks for a rousing dance concert.

ACBU Entertains!

The Activities Council enjoyed an exciting and profitable semester in the spring. The Performing Arts Series opened the year with a sell-out Kabuki dance presentation by Japan's Ayako Uchiyama. Campus Carnival/Siblings' Weekend was as successful as ever with over $5,000 generated for distribution to local charities.

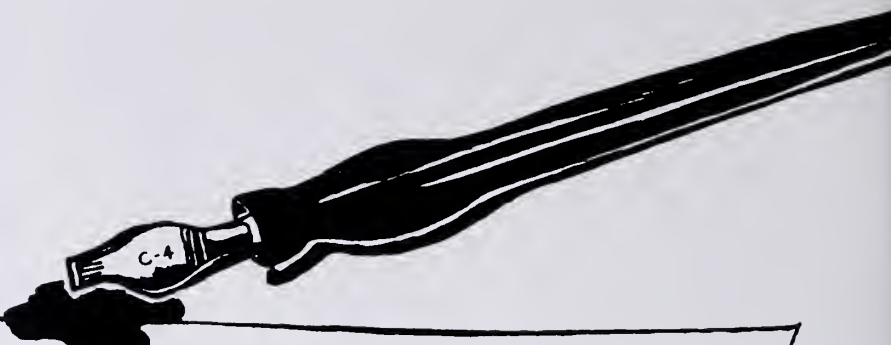

Many excellent films were shown, including the blockbuster Risky Business, which ranked an all-time second in total attendance for ACBU movies. Mainstage presented caricaturist Steve Gipson and comedian/hypnotist Tom DeLuca for Senior's Weekend activities. Doc Severinsen and Steve Landesberg of Barney Miller were featured for Spring Parent's Weekend. The Lecture Series presented G. Gordon Liddy of Watergate fame for a record-breaking attendance so large the lecture had to be moved from the Student Center Ballroom to the Fieldhouse. Performing Arts closed the semester with the provocative choreography of Gus Giordano Jazz Dance Chicago.

Tale

Hey girl what's poppin? Everything here. Well it's my last year at Jacksonridge High and I can't be any happier. How's your new school? I can't believe it's only been two months. It feels like two years. I hate school so much it's pathetic! I'm already failing or just barely passing in all of my classes. Great, huh? Well the gang's up to its old tricks again and we're doin fine.

My parents still treat me like I'm five years old and after I got busted it's even worse. How's your mom treatin ya? Same way? Guess you're wondering how I got busted. Draggin with some guys. Scott forgot to put the fuzz-buzz on and we were doin 90 down a 25 street. It was grand! Like mega-grand! Me, Dana, Tiff, John, Scott, and Bob were busted along with the other six guys. One copper, though, was really cute (ooh la la!) and all the while we were gettin busted, we were makin eyes at each other. See why I stay single? You can't flirt if you're goin steady.

You remember those three brats I babysat for? Yes, like the word says baby-sat! Mrs. Wilson didn't want me any more after I socked one of her little monsters in the mouth for pulling my hair. It felt so good that I wanted to do it to all three of them. Ma didn't like it so much but I told her that if she didn't like it, she could go babysit for them and see how she like that!

We've given up on Tiff. She's a hopeless val. I know you've told us that and we wouldn't listen but some things you have to find out for yourself. She's still cool, though, like fer shurr!

Well, what else happened. Oh yeah. Went to this real poppin party last Friday and like there was this really cool, mega-gorgeous, hunk of a dude who's Jeff. Nice name, huh? Well, J.T. eat your heart out cause his body would, like, blow your mind. It's mega-muscled - I call him macho man. I don't know if I actually want to go steady or not. I would like to show him off cause he is definately a looker! I spent the rest of the party with him. Guess what. He has the heinies too. And he doesn't get drunk or blitzed like John or Scott. It was like tubular - oops. Sorry. I forgot you hate that word. Okay. It was mega-great.

By the way, me and Tiff saw this really outrageous dress in Sax today around 12. We got sick of school so we decided to ditch. Anyway, it was purple with pink and yellow striped goin alternately diagonally across the front and a solid purple skirt (or bottom). We loved it but after I saw the price I didn't like it so much. 350 bucks for that puppy! Of course, Tiff has these really cute pink shoes that would look really nice with it. Her purple pumps would look outrageous with it too.

You're not going to believe this but these really mega-mega-geeks (I'm talking aqua-velva geeks) tried to pick me up Friday night outside of Pixies. I wasn't flirting with them either. I was waiting for Scott and they just pulled up to the curb and go. "Hey baby, want to have a good time tonight?" I mean, I'm so shurr!

Oh yeah. Mr. Baumer had to leave last Friday because his nervous system went haywire again. Ludicrous gave the whole homeroom D.T.s and blamed it on us. I can't believe he did that! We had nothing to do with his condition. I mean he came nervous and he left nervous, right?

Well, gotta run. Jeff's beepin outside. He's part of the gang now. He's transferred to our school and came right into our gang. Got an outrageous party to go to tonight. Hope you're havin fun at your new school. Miss ya tons!

Best friends always,
Coco

P.S. You know what? Dana's ma told her that she can't hang with us anymore cause we're a bad influence. Can you believe it? You hung around with us and you came out just fine! Anyway she still hangs with us though. You know how she is!

Patty Hurdy, Shine Clares, w/ah!!!

Homecoming '84

The 1984 Bradley University Homecoming theme was "Puttin' on the Ritz". And that's exactly what the campus did as students, faculty, administrators and alumni supported every event with enthusiasm and spirit, proving that Homecoming has become a permanent part of Bradley tradition.

The festivities started with Banner Day and Happy Hour at T.J. Crugar's where the Homecoming Queen candidates were introduced. Then it was down to the Peoria Civic Center for a Prancer's hockey game. The next day included all campus voting for Queen and then the wild and crazy Gamefest. Finally Friday night arrived for the first Bradley Bonfire/Pep Rally where students, cheerleaders and the Bradley Band gathered to cheer on the Braves.

Saturday arrived and began with a motorcade that wound its way through campus and down to the Civic Center where the Braves beat the Bluejays of Creighton in the Homecoming game. During halftime, winners of the Gamefest, Phi Gamma Delta, were presented with a traveling trophy and Joleen Davis was crowned 1984 Homecoming Queen.

The weekend was then topped off at the Hotel Pere Marquette where alumni gathered for a reception and students danced the night away on top of their tables.

Grueling

Dorm Daze, sponsored by the Inter-Dorm Council is a series of events designed to have dorm compete against dorm. Although the weather was exceptionally bad this year with much rain and unseasonably cold temperatures, most of the dorms turned out in full force.

The events started with Mattress races on the Student Center Quad. The next two days featured a gondola eating contest and then the Cease Fire-Ice Cream Social in the Geisert cafeteria.

The Male Warrior contest and the Before the War Party helped to gear students up for the big finale on Saturday.

Top: Kevin Woodley is taken by surprise as he and his partner Rich Gosha pop corn for those wishing to maintain their stamina during the grueling Dorm Daze events. Above: A valiant competitor hurdles during the treacherous obstacle course in Lovelace quad. Right: The thrill of victory or the agony of defeat???

Dorm Daze

The War Games were the long awaited event for Dorm Daze participants. That Saturday afternoon, Lovelace-Sisson beat all contenders on their home turf to come in first place. Geisert was second followed by Harper-Wyckoff in third.

Lovelace-Sisson swept the very dangerous earthball contest, the treacherous obstacle course and the often risky skit contest. But the high point was the secret event, which turned out to be a beer drinking contest won by none other than the infamous Geisert.

And a good time was had by all ... except maybe by Williams, University, Elmwood and St. James who did not show for the events. Rumor had it that the weather held them back. Things are tough all over.

Top: Six fierce competitors strain in probably the severest test of pure strength in the Dorm Daze series of events- the dreaded tug o' war. Middle Left: Able to leap tall buildings in a single bound? Maybe not, but good enough for Lovelace quad. Middle Right: A fearless athlete braves the very dangerous earthball ... will he ever be the same again??? Left: Hey ... wait! Speakers Highlight BSA Year

The Black Student Alliance had one of the busiest years in its history this year with movies, Garrett Week, and many lecturers. In September, BSA sponsored a lecture by Walter Fauntroy, a congressman from the District of Columbia. Fauntroy discussed the possibility of having a black president, as well as other political issues. In October, BSA brought in Mayor Richard Hatcher from Gary, Indiana. He also spoke on political issues and stressed the importance of exercising the right to vote. Later in the year BSA brought in Maya Angelou to speak to the students on campus.

Throughout the year the BSA sponsored events for all Bradley students. During Sibling's Weekend they sponsored a movie for visiting Siblings' and they were one of several groups that co-sponsored the Nuclear Apocalypse Series throughout the school year.

"All School Picnic"

The greek houses joined together for their annual IFC-Pan-hel all school picnic. Food, fun and games brought hundreds of students out for a day in the sun. Although organized by greeks, the picnic is for everybody as was shown by the turnout for the outdoor concert by the Basics, sponsored by ACBU.

"APO Blooddrive"

Each year Alpha Phi Omega, Bradley's co-ed national service fraternity, sponsors an all-campus blooddrive in conjunction with the American Red Cross. The blooddrive is a three day event which was once again held in the Student Center Ballroom. Hundreds of pints of blood were donated at a time when blood donations were low in Peoria.

"Coffee Tea Or . . ."

Delta Sigma Theta, a black sorority, has their tea in the Student Center, room 107. The various sororities on campus perform many kinds of rituals and throw social events throughout the year. These are some of the reasons that greek life remains so interesting to students at Bradley.

"Students Campaign"

Dave Carlson, outspoken SCOUT columnist and all-school presidential candidate speaks at the all-school officer forum. The forum is organized so that candidates may make their platforms known and to allow debate. Carlson went on to defeat Steven Bartlebaugh in a tie with Dave Holderby but failed to win in the run-off that followed.

The Marine Massacre

It was early Sunday morning on the killing ground of Lebanon. In the headquarters of the U.S. Marines, most of the peacekeepers were sleeping. Outside at the south gate, a sergeant on guard duty noticed a suspicious-looking truck approaching from the parking lot of Beirut International Airport 100 or so yards away. Suddenly, the truck's engine. The truck leaped forward, smashing through a sandbag barrier and into the building. It then blew up with a

REVIEW . . .

Throughout the academic year there are many events that effect us. The 1983-1984 academic year was no exception. During the year relations between the United States and the Soviet Union went from bad to worse. As tensions mounted many people around the world became extremely concerned with the possibility of a nuclear confrontation between the super powers.

Early in the year the world was horrified when the Soviet Union shot down a Korean Airliner killing over two hundred people. The United States invaded the small island country of Grenada and over-threw the Cuban backed government.

However Grenada was not the only place that U.S. troupes saw military action. During most of the year the U.S. has troupes stationed in Lebannon as part of a multi-national peace keeping force. Unfortunately, the price of peace was felt drastically by American families when a terrorist attack on the U.S. soldiers compound left over 100 Marines dead and many wounded. There was also major debate throughout the country concerning such things as aid to Central America, school prayer, and of course the Presidential Campaign was well under way.

Citizens of the United States took time to remember two great men during the year. First, in November many recalled the horror they felt twenty years earlier when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. Also thousands marched to Washington D.C. in honor of the late Martin Luther King, Jr. and to protest several of President Reagan's policies.

Throughout the year the world watched and cheered on the olympic athletes who competed in the Winter Olympics in Eastern Europe and many were despaired when the Russians announced late in the year that they would not participate in the Summer Olympics which were held in Los Angeles, California.

IDC Events Enhance Dorm Life

The Interdorm Council is made up of representatives from each dormitory. The Council oversees campus-wide dorm activities, such as social and educational programs. IDC also provides an opportunity for communications among the individual dorm councils.

During the 1983-84 school year, IDC sponsored many entertaining and worth-while events. The IDC film series featured many big-selling titles including 48 Hours starring Eddie Murphy of Saturday Night Live!

Other events included a senior citizen's brunch, a Christmas tree decorating contest and Dorm Daze competitions.

≡≡≡ Campus Carnival ≡≡≡

Campus Carnival, an annual fundraising event for local charities sponsored by ACBU, was truly "A World Celebration!" in 1984. On the weekend of March 10 & 11 over 5800 students and community residents came out to Northwoods Mall to participate in the festivities.

Various events led up to the weekend at the mall, all of which were coordinated by a committee under the direction of Bob Beodeker. These events included Campus Carnival King and Queen voting and an All Campus Scavenger Hunt.

About 30 organizations sponsored booths at the mall which featured games with international themes. Throughout the day entertainment was provided by various campus and student groups to add to the festive atmosphere. A 17 hr. dance marathon began Saturday night and ran through until Sunday morning. Later that day Tim Carlson of Phi Gamma Delta and Kathy Grinnell of Alpha Phi Omega were crowned King and Queen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Zeta were awarded the prize for the most tickets brought in at a booth and Fiji was given credit for having the best decorated/most thematic booth. SAE was also given a prize for the greatest overall participation.

The theme for Sibling's Weekend 1984 was "It's a Bradley World" and it introduced nearly 200 brothers and sisters of Bradley students to the campus. The fun included an ice cream social in the student center lobby followed by a special presentation of the Walt Disney movie The Dark Crystal. Friday was then topped off by the Alpha Phi Omega Casino Night where students and siblings gathered together to try their hand at gambling Las Vegas style . . . with play money.

Saturday began with an opportunity to attend ACBU's all organizational Campus Carnival at Northwoods Mall. Lunch in the dormitories was followed by Bradley's Wide World of Sports - a mini-camp with Bradley's cheerleaders. The World of Magic closed the second night with a show which amazed and entertained young and old alike.

After brunch in the dorm cafeterias, the siblings had one more chance to attend Campus Carnival before returning home at the close of the weekend.

Angelina Muskin's diligent work as ACBU's Siblings Weekend Coordinator paid off in an extremely successful and well-organized event that helped to reveal a little bit of college life to the brothers and sisters of Bradley students.

Bradley

It was another year, 1983-84, and for some it was a special year. As in most years, some traditions prospered while others faded away. The faces fade as the years go by. Yet some things are remembered as if they happened yesterday. The memories are enhanced by that wondrous quality of youth, and many Bradley students concentrated on having the times of their lives. In ten years, their memories will probably be far from many of the current happenings that are discussed today.

The presidential race was under way in 1984, and Democratic contender Gary Hart was trying to re-awaken student activism. Signs supporting Hart were posted on campus, and political debate actually entered into college life.

Then there was the matter of electing an all-school president. The common consensus seemed to be one of indifference, unless a candidate was a personal friend. There was even a time when there were no or only one candidate for various offices. Some students claimed to be unaware of who the current president even was.

Other students were more concerned with matters closer to home, like their stomach. The closing of Lovelace cafeteria had disappointed many Lovelace residents and put an added burden on the remaining cafeterias. So the proposed closing of Harper cafeteria was met with outrage. Students were allowed to decide if Harper should remain open on weekends, and decided that it should. Students attended hearings and spoke for the need for the cafeteria, but the status of Harper cafeteria in 1985 was not finalized.

Perhaps the most meaningful happenings of 1983-84 were the kind that will be remembered - friends, college life, good times, bad times. "The times of your life".

The 1983-84 school year was an explosive one for entertainment and leisure time activities. Quite a few unforgettable movies premiered; The Big Chill, and Terms of Endearment marked a major change in the way Hollywood makes movies (with an emphasis on ensemble acting and the unsensationalized portrayal of relationships); Yentl, produced and directed by Barbara Streisand who also took the lead role; as well as other titles like Splash, Never Cry Wolf and The Right Stuff. Cabbage Patch Dolls were definitely the right stuff after a record-breaking sell-out left shoppers rioting and offering outrageous amounts of money to get one of their own. It was some of Britain's own who rocked America with a new wave of bands playing a new style of music- twenty years after the Beatles first arrived here.

But it was America's own Michael Jackson who was the biggest musical hit with songs and videos of Beat It and Thriller.

On a more serious note, the television program The Day After caused controversy in all parts of the country.

All things considered, the year brought great entertainment, and made it easy to look ahead.

Bradley University Chorale

This year the Bradley Chorale, under the direction of Dr. John Davis, presented two on-campus concerts in the Eleanor Sykes-Peters Recital Hall at the new Dingledine Music Center. The winter concert featured selections from The Messiah with chorale members performing solos and choruses. The spring concert was given as part of the Music Scholarship Series which raises scholarship money for music majors. In addition, the Bradley Chorale toured the eastern U.S., the highlight of which was a performance at the beautiful Washington Cathedral located in our nation's capital.

Bradley Chorale members Michelle Sherman and Bob Beodeker (top to bottom) are shown rehearsing for an upcoming performance. The chorale practices each weekday between the hours of 12pm and 1pm throughout the school year. Members are chosen by audition from the student body and come from a variety of backgrounds and majors. The Bradley Chorale is an award-winning choir which is an integral part of cultural life at the university.

MADRIGALS

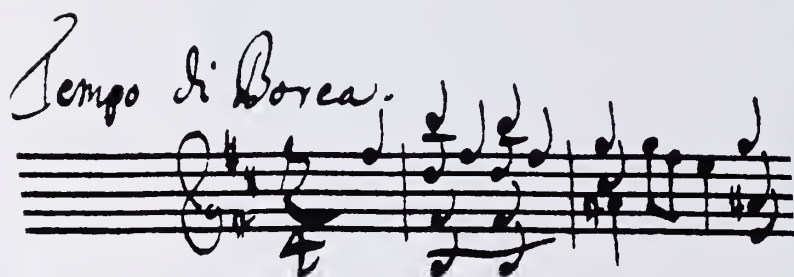

One of the most popular Bradley traditions during the Christmas season were the annual Madrigal Dinners which were presented by the music department in the Student Center Ballroom during the month of December. The staff of the Student Center worked for several weeks before the dinners transforming the Ballroom into an Old English Hall.

The evenings began with the Lord Chamberlin, Greg Lhamon, greeting the guests and escorting them to their seats. Thirteen students, Lisa Castillo, Ann Guthrie, Jim Chiolino, Rick Lays, Eric Ashcraft, Andrea Voirin, Linda Harrington, Paul Cummings, Lloyd Overcash, Sandy Fieldcamp, Carol Rask, Laura Spell and Michele Sherman, participated as the singers for the dinners each evening. The students charmed audiences each evening with such songs as; "A Rose in Winter," "The Wassail Song," "Silent Night" and many others. Once again it was easy to see why the Madrigal Dinners have been a popular tradition at Bradley.

Gospel Choir

With the coming of spring, the Gospel Choir's performance schedule was in full swing. Annual events, like a trip to Springfield and a spring concert, were complimented by shows at local churches and campus sororities. Most of the Gospel Choir's members were returning upperclassmen. They, along with president Charles Anderson and Director Arjonetta Smith, were hoping to cut a record as soon as the funds were raised.

Symphonic Winds

Bradley's band which is officially known as the Symphonic Winds completed a year of hard work and many concerts. Director Melvin Pontious and the band staged formal concerts in the fall, winter, and spring at Bradley. They once again were highlighted at all the Braves Basketball games along with playing at the first Bradley Homecoming Pep Rally at the Garrett Center.

The band played informal concerts at Mom's Day, Dad's Day, and the West Bluff Faire. They are scheduled to play at the opening game of the Peoria Chiefs baseball team. The annual spring tour during March started in Chicago and moved south to Peoria. "We received much acclaim during our tour in Chicago," said Pontious. Eight bandmembers were awarded the Senior Award. "The students have met this year's rather challenging repertoire with outstanding enthusiasm and spirit. I expect next year's group to rise to even greater accomplishments," added Pontious.

1983-84 National Champion Speech Team

Speech Team Keeps On

What could be better than winning the National Championship in Forensics for two years consecutively? Winning the National Championship in Forensics for three years consecutively! The Bradley Speech Team broke all existing records this Spring when they became the only Forensics Team in the nation to win both the American Forensic League and the National Forensic League competitions for three consecutive years.

The team is headed by George Armstrong and the team credits much of its success to Armstrong. The Speech Team spent about a week in April in Georgia where they retained their championship title and set a national record for the most points accumulated ever by a team. The Bradley team had over four hundred points at the end of the competition.

The team consists of students from various curriculums and backgrounds. It is open to any student with experience or with an interest in public speaking or oral interpretation. Throughout the year the students compete in many competitions against other colleges and universities while attending classes at Bradley. This makes their three year victory nationally even more spectacular. The Speech Team has truly brought honor and prestige to the university this year and we are proud to honor them here in the ANAGA.

Life In The Dorms

Dorm life is a familiar aspect of college to all Bradley students. Moving in, changing a room to fit you, doing laundry, eating in the cafeteria, floor parties, steak in the fieldhouse, visiting with a neighbor, late-night pizza orders, adjusting to a new and unknown roommate, learning new phone numbers all are Bradley dorm traditions.

Some students find dorm life adequate but a less than ideal situation and later move out of the dorms, living in a greek house or an apartment. These students often look for different living conditions or less expensive housing.

The other side of the picture is the satisfied dormie, who spends four years in the dorm system. Floor parties, mystery meat, cafeteria specials, and camaraderie with fellow floor members are the memories of the dormie.

Recent changes in the dorms have been the additions of singles dorms and increased variety and specials in the cafeterias.

Off-Campus Life

Off-campus living arrangements offer an interesting alternative to dorm life. Largely a domain of Greeks and upperclassmen, it offers greater freedoms and responsibilities.

Off-campus students state advantages of being able to decide when to be loud or quiet, having more space, and living with a group of people they choose.

On the other hand, they often find cooking and cleaning a drag, or miss a good argument with a staff member.

For some, it is an acceptable trade-off.

Severinsen & Landesberg Perform For B.U. Moms

Spring Parent's Weekend was dedicated to Bradley Moms. The Alumni Association sponsored a New Orleans style buffet dinner at the Ramada downtown as ACBU provided entertainment in the form of the Spring Arts Festival, a free showing of the movie The Weavers (which was originally scheduled to be shown out of doors but ran into problems because of high winds), and the highlight of the weekend, performances by Steve Landesberg and Doc Severinsen.

Landesberg brought his special brand of humor to the Fieldhouse on Saturday night. He was then followed by Doc Severinsen and his jazz-fusion band Xebro. The pair of entertainers thrilled Bradley parents and topped off a very exciting weekend of performances.

Spring Arts A Rebirth . . .

ACBU's Spring Arts Festival coincided with Spring Parent's Weekend. This year's theme was 'A Rebirth of the Arts at Bradley'. The festival featured performances by Bradley's Symphonic Winds and the Jazz Band, as well as music by singer/song writer Michael Gulezian.

Also featured were booths by various other student organizations such as the International Affairs Organization and a food sculpturing contest by ACBU. The weather was excellent although the turnout was not as large as it could have been.

Garrett Week: Celebration Of Black Culture

The seventh annual Garrett Week honoring Professor Emeritus Romeo B. Garrett, the first black faculty member at Bradley, was a rousing success. Sponsored by the Black Student Alliance, the week long series of events featuring drama, dance and music was a celebration of black culture and history.

Opening night's performance by the Northern Illinois Black Theatre Workshop was so well appreciated that the troupe was coaxed back for an encore of improvisational drama.

The Black Modeling Club of Bradley put on a fashion show with 'Sheer Fantasy' as a theme featuring everything from leather to swimwear. Poetry and Dance Night with the Whitney Young Dance Troupe and members of the Bradley Speech Team offered a superb evening of entertainment.

International Night in the Student Center Ballroom was followed by the highlight of the week- The Garrett Dinner. Keynote speaker for the evening was 1960's radical, Bobby Seale. Seale was former chairman of the Black Panther Party and one-time mayoral candidate for Oakland, California. Awards were also given that night for freshman and senior with highest grade point average and the Outstanding Service Award was given to Rhonda Laye.

Apollo Night, featuring the music of Fresh was also held in the Ballroom, and Garrett Week ended with Gospel Extravaganza, a concert of music by the Bradley Gospel Choir choirs from other schools.

. . . Go Onward, Ever Onward!

It has been said many times before, and with good reason, that graduation is not an ending, but a beginning. It is in the truest sense of the word, a commencement. Not that the college years mean something less than the time that comes after, but they are a time of growth and searching . . . a time to look inward and outward.

Graduation arrives, and the choices made in school bring students to a place where many roads diverge . . . a time when we begin to make our dreams a reality. And if we have chosen a star, we begin to stay our minds and be staid.

CHOOSE SOMETHING LIKE A STAR

O Star (the fairest one in sight),
We grant your loftiness the right
To some obscurity of cloud-
It will not do to say of night,
Since dark is what brings out your light.

Some mystery becomes the proud.
But to be wholly taciturn
In your reserve is not allowed
Say something to us we can learn
By heart and when alone repeat.
Say something! And it says, "I burn."
But say with what degree of heat.
Talk Fahrenheit, talk Centigrade.

Use language we can comprehend.
Tell us what elements you blend.
It gives us strangely little aid,
But does tell something in the end.
And steadfast as Keats' Eremite,
Not even stooping from its sphere,
It asks a little of us here.
It asks of us a certain height,
So when at times the mob is swayed
To carry praise or blame too far,
We may choose something like a star
To stay our minds on and be staid.

-Robert Frost-

The beginning of the Braves' season was great, they won 11 of their first 15 games, the end showed the team only winning four out of 13. Bradley had one three-game losing streak and their first four-game losing streak since the 1978-79 season but also a three and four-game winning streak. This made the final record 12-3 at home, 3-10 away, 7-9 in MVC play, and 15-13 overall. With the record of 15-13 Bradley had their fifth winning season in a row, something that has not been done since the 1972 season came to an end.

With Bradley finishing their 80th season, the record now stands at 1,094 wins and 652 losses. The winning seasons total 55 which moves the Braves into the NCAA all time top 20.

The 2nd River City Shootout, hosted by the Braves in December, gave them first place honors defeating East Carolina and Alcorn State.

The Braves ended their season 25-6 in their home court at the Civic Center. Bradley is 12-1 at home vs. non-conference teams and 13-5 vs. valley teams. Illinois State has yet to be defeated in the Civic Arena.

Voice Winters led the Braves in both scoring and rebounding for the second year in a row. His 1,086 total points at the end of this season puts him on the 1,000 point club and also makes him 21st on the all time Bradley scoring list. Voice has an 11.9 average for the 91 games he has participated in. At rebounding, his 492 puts him 18th on the all time Bradley list with a 5.4

In just 22 games Jimmy Les had 158 assists giving him a 7.2 per game average. This average was good enough for a top ten placing across the nation and second in Bradley history.

Five seniors will not be coming back to Bradley for basketball next year. They are forwards Roosevelt Davison, Booker Johnson, and Pat Marshall, guard Melvin Harden, and center Bobby Gray. Out of the entire 1983-84 squad only Winters, Anthony Webster, Bruce Mordini, and Les will be returning.

At home, the Braves played in front of 107,881 fans over 15 games for an average of 7,192 per game. The Braves played for four sellout crowds with only one of them being at home, Illinois State.

In MVC play, the Braves lost in the first round against Creighton 40-50. Out of the MVC conference Creighton and Wichita State went to the NIT, Tulsa and Illinois State to the NCAA.

Men's 1983-84 Golf

The 1984 golf team had a fine season with six dates in the fall and six during the spring. The highlight of the fall was a third place finish in the Illinois Intercollegiate Meet. They also placed fourth out of sixteen teams at the Northern Iowa Golf Classic. Dave Wettlaufer led the team with a 75.77 average. Jon Diggetts placed second with a 76.22 average and a low round of 67. Steve Douse and Bill Ott shot 76.59 and 77.11 averages during the fall.

Wettlaufer shot a two over-par 73 in the final round of the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament and finished with a 72-hole total of 302 to become the first Bradley University champion in the event in 32 years. Ott shot a 10 over-par 81 to finish in a tie for second place at 306. Wichita State won the team competition with a score of 1227 to the 1237 of second place Bradley University. The second place finish was the best ever in Valley golf for Bradley.

Coach Jim Spink summed up Bradley's chances, "I.S.U. had good averages, but I hadn't seen them anywhere. Tulsa had good players, but high averages so I wondered where they'd been playing. I knew Wichita State was tough and of course, S.I.U. was close to us every week. Our guys? I thought if they played their best golf, we'd be in the hunt." When the dust had cleared, Spink commented, "We played in everything: rain, wind, thunder, and lightning. It was miserable. But I have to give the kids credit because they played well in spite of the conditions, they toughened up when we had a chance to win. I can't say enough about the way David played. He was as consistent as anyone out there."

Women's 1983-84 Tennis

The Women's Tennis Team finished the fall season with a 14 - 6 record. Led by Julie Babler with an 11 and 8 in number one singles and Lisa Pettits record of 13 and 6 in number 2 singles. Joie Rolf played number 3 with a team leading 17 and 2 record, followed closely by Angela Rossatti with a 17 and 3 record.

The doubles team of Harkles-Rolf, playing number 2, won 5 matches while losing none. Babler and Pettit played as number 1 doubles with a record of 9 and 4.

In the spring, they won their first four matches again against E.I.U., two with I.S.U., and at Indiana State. The next three matches were on the road with Toledo, Eastern Michigan, and Notre Dame where the ladies came home with three straight losses. They caught fire winning their next six matches going into the Gateway Conference Championships. Playing well all year long, they should place high in the conference championships.

Bradley Takes A Second At The Notre Dame Invitational

The 1983 Bradley Cross Country Team had expected to do better than in the previous season because four of the top seven runners were returning. Despite a losing dual meet record (1-2), the running Braves placed well in the big invitationals. Paced by M.V.P.'s Rich Kruiswyk and Eric Huey, Bradley took second out of twenty-nine teams at the Notre Dame Invitational and second out of fifteen teams at the Cougar Classic. The biggest achievement for the squad was the Missouri Valley Conference Championships. For the second year in a row they finished third. They showed remarkable improvement though, losing to the first place team by 84 points in 1982 and only losing by 9 points this season. Coach Ed McGraw said, "only the tip of the iceberg" had been seen this season and hopes within two years to capture the MVC championship. Next year also looks good as four of the top seven runners return.

Swimming Goes 10-2

The 1983-84 Men's Swimming Team finished their season with a record of 10 wins and only 2 losses in dual meets. They also did very well in multi-team meets, winning the Illinois Intercollegiate meet with a point total of 882 compared to runner up University of Illinois with 744. "I would have to say that our victory over the University of Illinois in the Illinois Intercollegiate meet was the highest point of an excellent year," coach James Spink said while reflecting on the season.

Coach Spink, in his 25th year as head coach, has a lifetime record of 158-125-1 while at the hilltop. Since 1976, his teams have won 63 of 77 dual meets (an .818 winning percentage), while setting every school record.

Leadership on this year's team was provided by senior captain Rick Velde and junior captain John Wilcox. Velde placed third in total points and swam the last leg of the 400 yard medley relay that set a new school record of 3:30.07. He also turned in a season best of 46.99 in the 100 yard freestyle. Wilcox swam the second leg of the 400 yard medley relay record. He holds the school record in the 200 yard breaststroke and turned in many times close to breaking that record.

Mike Murray led the team in scoring and earned the most valuable player award as a sophomore. Murray broke two school records, 51.19 in the butterfly, 1:56.51 in the 200 yard individual medley. He set nine personal bests and swam the third leg of the 400 yard medley relay record. "Mike was a very valuable asset to our team this year," commented Spink, "and he will continue to do well in his remaining two years."

Sophomore Rob Weeks kept pace with last year's outstanding performance by breaking the 200 yard individual medley record he set last year. Unfortunately Murray also broke that this year, Weeks earned second place in total points along with swimming the first leg of the 400 medley relay record. He turned in four personal bests and owns the Bradley years best in the 100 yard and 200 yard backstroke. Bjorn Anderson, a freshman from Sandejord Norway, placed fourth in total points and set personal bests in nine events, including a team leading 1:42.43 in the 200 yard freestyle.

Anderson is a prime example of coach Spink's effort to gain top swimmers from many different areas. Coach Spink said, "we have an excellent program for both swimming and getting a top education here at Bradley. I think hard work in the pool as the classroom will set an example for others that consider our program." He added, "this is the best all around team I've had, a bit more depth is needed to compete in the big meets with nationally ranked teams like SIU and Missouri."

Bradley pitching

This year's baseball team should be the best Bradley University has ever put on the field. Coach Dewey Kalmer has worked with the young players and turned out an outstanding season. They were 30-20 overall to set a new Bradley University record for wins.

Bradley University standout pitcher Mike Dunne has been selected to the United States Olympic team and was picked by Baseball America's pre-season All American team. He recorded 8 wins this season with a 2.40 earned run average. The Bradley University staff has many live arms including 3 freshmen, Paul DeJaynes, Curt Hasler, and Tim Foley. Sophomore Bob Neiderhauser, junior Lindsey Rolston, seniors Mike Frew and Brett Hatch round out the staff.

Bradley University hitters had a .266 average with 4 games remaining to be added. Led by Scott Melvin, Adam Dempsay, and Mike Debutch, all with 300 plus averages. Debutch has stolen 24 bases in 27 attempts. In the power department, Craig Holthus, Debutch, and Waylock had six homeruns each, with Melvin and Dempsay collecting 5 round trippers each. The pitching staff held the opposition to only 17 homeruns on the year.

The Braves finished with a split of 4 games at Illinois State University to finish 7-9 in the Valley. Playing in the Valley Tournament was a reality to Coach Kalmer and his team but they just fell a bit short. Bradley University will lose only 4 seniors this year, so hopes are great for next year's team.

Difficult Season

The 1984 men's tennis team has not played up to their potential. They lost their first six matches before winning two in a row: Sangamon State and Western Illinois. Bret Bernardi played the number 1 spot during the year. Brian Hiner and Gene Dorsh played number 2 and 3 for the year. Ken Shaw started the season in the number 4 spot, but moved up to the number 2 spot for the Missouri Valley Championships. Bernardi teamed with Hiner as the number 1 doubles team for Bradley University. Dorsh and Shaw also played number 2 for most of the season.

The team finished tied for sixth in the Missouri Valley Conference Championships, played both indoors and outdoors at Wichita State. The Braves took home 14 points, far behind Wichita with 96. Individually, number 2 player Shaw won the consolation championship while number 4 Dorsh and number 5 Hargis both lost in consolation finals. In doubles, Hiner and Dorsh playing number 2, took the consolation title. They have three matches remaining this season, all on the road.

Lady Braves

The 1983-84 Bradley Lady Braves Basketball Team finished the year with a record of 9 wins and 18 losses, somewhat a disappointment to many fans but not to first year head coach Angela Beck. "I'd have to say I was a bit pleased because things didn't look too bright at the beginning of the season. I thought we would win four or five games. We were picked dead last in the conference (tenth) but we placed sixth. There were some positive things."

Effort was never lacking on a team that was smaller than almost every other team they played. The team won three of their last four games moving from ninth to sixth place in the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference standings despite the lack of height and experienced players. "Our effort was great all year," said Beck, "and I have to credit the kids. Everytime we would get beat, we would come back and play harder. Their attitude stayed good all season and I am looking forward to next year."

Junior point guard Judy Burns led the team in eight offensive categories including points scored (442), scoring average (17.0), and in assists (116). She continued to climb to the top of Bradley's career scoring list needing only 135 points to pass Karen Anderson as the all time leading scorer. In her third season she made 70 out of 91 freethrows to set a single season record of 76.9% and she upped her own career freethrow percentage to 75%. Tammy Jo Hirstein, a junior transfer, paced the team in rebounds with 199 for a 7.7 per game average. Kathy Eshoo, a sophomore guard, doubled her scoring average of last year with 9.0 per game while handing out 65 assists and making 42 steals. Lisa Cech added 8.7 points per game and 122 rebounds. Beck, along with assistant coaches Terry Becker and Joe Huber, termed this season a rebuilding year. The Lady Braves had no seniors this season and will show only three next year. This year's record does not show the effort and skills learned so next year should be excellent.

In a season that saw a great turnaround for the Bradley Volleyball program, Coach Pam Stanek said the best is yet to come. Of the 11 member squad, 10 are either freshmen or sophomores. Despite all of this youth, the team tied the school record for most wins in a season while compiling an over-all mark of 25-15. This was the first successful season the team has had in three years. In her second year, Coach Stanek said it wasn't so much the recruiting or conditioning that made this a good year but the spirit and desire of the players. The squad will not lose any players to graduation.

The Lady Braves cross country season saw little success team wise but on an individual level every runner saw her time drop. Coach Ed McGraw commented, "Our times dropped considerably over the course of the season but condition wise we started behind our competition. As our times dropped, so did theirs." Coach McGraw hopes to have more girls out for the team next year by recruiting heavily. The team will lose three of their top five runners next year.

Cheerleaders

The Bradley Cheerleading Squad entered a video competition from Hawaii this year and they were ranked eighth out of 110 entrants from the midwest. The group, made up of eight guys and eight girls, practiced three days a week for two and a half hours, even over Christmas break! Greg Neal, coach for thirteen years at Bradley, and co-captains Mitch Grau and Julie DeConinck were very dedicated throughout the year. The squad attended summer camp and sponsored a workshop for H.S. cheerleaders in Oct. At auditions held in the spring the entrants are judged on dance, acrobatics, jumps, and cheers.

Bradley Merri-N-Ettes

The 1983-84 version of the Bradley Merri-N-Ettes expanded their performance schedule. They not only danced at the Braves Basketball games but entertained at banquets and other functions both on and off campus. Most of the ideas and moves for the routines came from the girls inside the group and suggestions from director Melody Hildebran. This year most of the sixteen members were new as the turnout was high. The squad each year is chosen by a panel of university and non-university people. This panel varies from the cheerleaders' coach to professional dance instructors to returning Merri-n-ette captains. Each year the squad tries to implement modern dance steps and to have a distinct collegiate look.

Intramurals And More

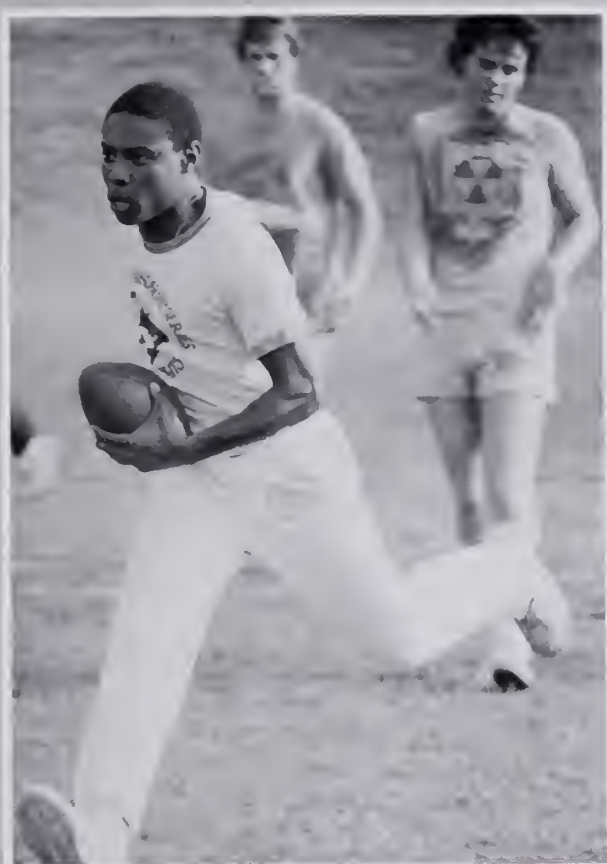

For students who do not compete in intercollegiate sports, Bradley offers a great intramural program too. In the fall, to mid-term break, the sports include: softball, touch football, tennis, bowling, volleyball, water polo, racquetball, a ping pong tournament, and the turkey trot. The turkey trot is held right before Thanksgiving and the winner of this race receives a turkey.

Dorms as well as Greeks get involved on certain intramurals and there are categories in which they are put into according to their skills.

As Sports Editor of the 1983-84 ANAGA I would just like to say these few final things to the Bradley University Sports Program. First of all, being a freshman and editor of a section in a yearbook, I apologize to those sports organizations where the pictures are poor quality or the sport was not covered well enough. This is really no individual's fault, just poor planning altogether. To all intramural teams: all of you should of been included more in depth but because of the dispersity of everything it was almost impossible to do.

Now for the thank you's. To Joe Dalfanso (for those of you who don't know who he is but should, he is The Director of Sports at Bradley) thank you very much for the variety of help that you supplied me with. Also, to the people who worked in the Sports Information Office whose names I do not know, thanks. You all seemed so eager to help. Next I would like to thank the SCOUT photographers for the pictures I needed, the ANAGA photographers, those I met and didn't, you did a good job in the time provided to you. Last but not least, thanks goes to the Audio Visual Center for photos I needed fast.

Being a section editor gave me many privileges. The one I liked the best was being able to go on an overnight roadtrip with the Men's Tennis Team. This was an adventure I will never forget. Thanks to Orville Nothdurft of the Athletic Department for arranging it and to the entire team for making me feel welcome.

To readers and people involved in sports at Bradley, I hope the ANAGA sports was worth your while. This picture of cheerleader Marcia Modre sums up what I and I hope a lot of you feel about your school ——— GO BRADLEY!!

Lori Koettters

Lori Koettters, an English major, became active with Bradley publications as a freshman writer for both the Anaga and the Scout. As a sophomore she became the Scout's managing editor.

Koettters left the Scout during her junior year and became the managing editor of Broadside. That year she also became a member of Publications Council, the governing body of Bradley's publications.

She returned to the Scout staff as editor her senior year and faced a problem, initially, of working with a staff that had been trained by another editor. By the end of her term, however, Koettters felt good about her work on the paper. She was proud of the fact that she had good staff "that can keep up the quality of the Scout," she said.

Throughout her years at Bradley she became involved in other organizations. Koettters is a member of Sigma Tau Delta and Phi Kappa Phi Honor Fraternities, she made the Dean's list for most of her eight semesters, and was listed in the 1984 "Who's Who on College Campuses."

December graduates look extremely happy and confident as they leave Bradley during the mid-year commencement exercises.

Linda Kampe

"Ms. Kampe is an outstanding example of the well-rounded, liberally educated student. Her membership in several Honor Societies and her inclusion on the Dean's List for seven semesters give evidence of her achievements. The most recent achievement ... is her admission to the Harvard School of Law The example she has set, and continues to set, for all students is an outstanding one." — Dr. Joyce Pandelis.

Linda L. Kampe, a Philosophy major, has represented the Philosophy department for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Dean's Advisory Board. She also has been a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Chi Theta, and Treasurer for the Council for Women's Awareness.

Beatrice K. Elbert

Beatrice K. Elbert has earned a 4.0 G.P.A. as a Computer Science Major and Business Minor. President of the Cooperative Education Student Association, she has been a member of Phi Kappa Phi and the Student Senate, a panelist for "What's in Engineering,-Business and Computer Science for Women, and has been named to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. A computer science co-op for IBM, she was featured in an article for the Peoria Journal Star. She has been a recipient of a corporate scholarship for her high academic achievement, and will be Honor Marshall at the Spring 1984 Graduation.

According to Dr. Herbert Morris: "(Beatrice Elbert's) contributions to the (Computer Science) department have been the prestige that she has given to us with her activities."

The Senior Development Board is an organization consisting of approximately 30 seniors, representing all facets of University life. The Board's purpose is to unify the Bradley Class of 1984 through the presentation of the traditional class gift. The Senior Development Board also tries to ease the transition from undergraduate to Alumnus.

of the tides, how often have you sailed in my Cindy Wolf

"Cindy Wolf is one of the most outstanding majors we have had in recent years. Her exceptionally high grade point average — 3.93 overall and 3.93 in psychology — has been achieved while pursuing a rigorous curriculum including the most demanding courses this department has to offer. Cindy has also participated in independent research, in practicum work in the Child Study Center, and in volunteer work at Zeller Zone Center, all indicative of her desire to learn as much as possible in as many ways as possible about the discipline of psychology."

Dr. Claire Etaugh

Cindy Wolf's 3.93 grade point average has helped earn her nomination for the Bradley University Academic Hall of Fame and has kept her on the Dean's List for seven semesters. She has been a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Kappa Phi, and the Psychology Club.

Steve Sudhoff And John Quirk

Steve Sudhoff and John Quirk are both on the Speech Team which is the current National Champion. Both men have been awarded over one-hundred honors from their field of competition. Both men spend their summers at the Summer Speech Camp for high school students. Though traveling across country with the Speech Team does take up much of these gentlemen's time, they have excelled at Bradley in other areas.

John Quirk is a Business Economics major with an emphasis in Speech Communications. John's training in this discipline will secure him success in the business world upon leaving Bradley.

Steve Sudhoff who shares the responsibility of Vice-President with John has a long history of academic achievement. His Freshmen year he became a member of Alpha Lambda Delta-Phi Eta Sigma and his senior year became a member of Phi Kappa Phi, both for academic excellence. Steve's accomplishments also entail honor societies in both the economic and political science departments and being treasure of Mortar Board.

Steve Sudhoff and John Quirk discuss an extemporaneous question from competition.

Tau Beta Pi

The Illinois Delta chapter of Tau Beta Pi at Bradley University is now entering its third decade of existence. As it has since its inception at Lehigh University in 1885, Tau Beta Pi continues to recognize those individuals in the engineering curriculum who have distinguished themselves academically and demonstrate exemplary character. Our members at Bradley are junior and senior students in Civil, Electrical, Industrial, and Mechanical Engineering.

Special thanks this year go to Stella Thompson for planning our banquet, Greg Dietz for filling in as secretary, and Don Rickey for his help in our referral project.

Black Student Alliance

My involvement with BSA has been one of a four year struggle not to mention a learning experience. It has been a time where I have witnessed the dismissal of a good friend as well as an advisor. A time where my leadership ability was put through a dual test. A test that I survived because of a strong executive board.

Not all of my four years has been a struggle. Being part of BSA has been a rewarding experience for me because I have grown mature and gained a sense of pride about myself that I will cherish forever. I also had the pleasure to wine and dine with people like Mayor Andrew Young, Nikki Giovanni, Dr. Alvin Poutsant, Angela Davis, and many others.

I have also had the privilege of honoring someone who I have grown to love and admire, Dr. Romeo B. Garrett. I have also had the privilege of being honored and I would like to express my thanks to Alpha Phi Alpha for awarding me "The Most Prominent Black Female Student Award" and to my co-workers from BSA for Outstanding Senior. It has meant a lot to me to be recognized by my classmates because of the goals that we tried to accomplish these past four years. Again I would like to thank everyone and wish you all well in your future endeavors.

And to Bradley thanks for all the enriching opportunities.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega, founded on May 6, 1978, had a great year. It all began with a Fall pledge class of 30 women. Following an enjoyable fall rush came Greek Week, in which Alpha Chi placed first in overall points. Alpha Chi has also won awards in scholarship, having the highest G.P.A. for a pledge class, active chapter, and All-House. Besides scholarship, they also won the All-Sorority softball, volleyball, and basketball. One of their proudest moments was when Alpha Chi's Joleen Davis was crowned this year's Homecoming Queen. Among our many social events were a Fall hayride, a Christmas Date party put on by the Fall pledge class, A Valentine's Day Date party, and our Spring Formal held at the Civic Center. They've also had exchanges with several fraternities with themes ranging from a gerbil party complete with habitrail to celebrating a particular decade. Fun was had by all in altruistic projects such as the Kissing Close Up Games which Alpha Chi co-sponsored with SAE to raise money for Easter Seals, Campus Carnival with AK Psi, and participation in Sigma Chi Derby Days.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is the governing body of the fraternity system at Bradley. The Council consists of seven officers and a representative, the president, from each of the 16 member fraternities. The IFC president is elected by the IFC and the other officers are appointed. All the positions are for a one year term. Throughout the year the council works on many projects like the summer Greek-weekend, Fall Rush, and Greek Week games. Photo by Laura Brackman.

Pi Kappa Phi

The Epsilon Mu chapter of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity was chartered on February 26, 1982. Although the Pi Kapps have only been at Bradley for two years they have made a major impression on the fraternity system here at Bradley. In the spring of this year they had the highest number of rushees at calling out taking their membership to the present 53. In sports the Pi Kapps have continued to be competitive in all areas the highlight coming in spring basketball. The Pi Kapp raiders won their league with a 6-0 record and after winning their first play off game they lost to the eventual fraternity champions by a single point. The Pi Kapps had the third highest overall GPA of all the fraternities and it is one of their goals to develop a strong scholarship program.

This year the fraternity has not only had a very full and successful social calendar but has also directed its attention to fund raising for the fraternity's only charity- Project Push (Play Units for the Severely Handicapped). In the spring semester the member of the fraternity pushed a wheelchair around campus for 76 hours as Ring sponsors to pledge money per hour. Other fund raising events included all campus happy hours and a basketball game vs. a local radio station's team (the WCT 106'ers).

Many Pi Kapps are also involved in varied campus activities. There are Pi Kapps on dorm staff (including a head and an assistant head resident), and in the Order of Omega and ODK Music Sinfonia, student senate, and many other campus organizations. Pi Kapps also hold many important positions on the campus such as IFC PR Chairman, IDC President and Managing Editor of the Bradley SCOUT.

The Pi Kapps believe that they have had a positive impact on Bradley's campus and they look forward to many happy years as a successful fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Established in 1856, Sigma Alpha Epsilon has a heritage rich in brotherhood, history and tradition. The growth of strong and lasting friendships has made Sigma Alpha Epsilon the largest national fraternity, and Bradley's chapter a living, growing brotherhood. Established at Bradley University in 1967, SAE has continued to grow and is currently 60 members strong.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have worked hard throughout the year for the campus and community. Challenged with helping others, the members hosted SAE's national fundraiser, "The Kissing Close-Up Game", for Easter Seals and was the fundraising leader at Campus Carnival. Scholastically, SAE has been the leader in the Greek system. The members have dominated the all-Greek scholastic awards and achieved the best active grade point three of the past five years.

Throughout the year, SAE has shown a high level of sportsmanship and competitiveness in all Inter-fraternity sports. Socially, the all campus parties, the little sister program, and exchanges with sororities add to the campus life of it's members. The fraternity has made plans for a new house and construction will be in the near future. SAE promoted individual growth and has been an intergral part of the Greek system.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi was founded as the first national women's fraternity on April 28, 1876. The Imlinois Theta chapter is composed of women with many talents and varying personalities. The women form a strong dynamic group involved in campus activities and community service, along with chapter and Greek events. Pi Beta Phi is proud of its history, heritage and tradition as well as the opportunities it provides for leadership, sisterhool and growth.

Gamma Phi Beta

The Beta Eta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was founded on April 3, 1948 at Bradley University. Our sorority is bound together with treasured sisterhood and many friendships. Along with the social life of attending exchanges with fraternities, formals, philanthropies, we also have many girls actively involved in a variety of other campus activities. Gamma Phi has given each one of us new goals, and something to remember.

TRADITIONS FROM YEARS GONE BY

1960 Watermelon Bus
Green Beanies
frosh without them

campaigns in the field house.

1962 Competition Float in front of the Sigma Chi house.

1960 New freshmen trying on their Green Beanies that all frosh wore.

1948 Homecoming bon-fire.

1978 Our Brave. Escort the 1957 Graduates, a symbol of 4 years of work, friends, and the time and the start of a new life.

1950-60 hosted a time of cakes, float, and parties for homecoming in downtown Peoria.

1979 Rat courts were held to administer "justice" to frosh caught without their green beanie.

1963 Bradley Hall after the fire.

1971 protests against war in the Quad was a common occurrence as students rallied together.

1955 Homecoming Queen and her royal court.

Bradley Polytechnic and Horological Institute when it began as a dream.

1971 Bradley football team then but a memory now.

There was a time of... how many people can you fit in a van? in a closet? etc?

Acknowledgements

The ANAGA staff would like to thank the following people and groups of people for their efforts in aiding us to publish the 1984 ANAGA. Michael Hackleman, our Josten's/American representative for his constant support and assistance; John DeGarmo and everyone at Delma Studios in New York for their help with Seniors Portraits; Linda Guinn and Melanie Jackson, both who work in Swords Hall for the patience and support; the members of Publications Council who helped us throughout the year, especially Dr. Chambers for supporting us when we needed it most; the director of Co-curricular and Organizational Development, Cam Ratcliff for her constant assistance and support, Deidre Purcell, Lois Turner and E.J. Ritter for the concern, patience and assistance; the office of the Director of Student Activities, especially Mrs. Peggy Brehm for her advice and concern, Mary Deakin for her hard work and all the members of the Student Senate; Karina Istavan and the members of SABRC for their constant faith and support; the 1983-84 Scout Staff and their Editor, Lori Koettters for her constant assistance and support; all the organizational groups that purchased space in this yearbook; Nick Mueller for his outstanding effort in preparing copy for us, Maria V. Cimadevilla for her late night work on the typewriter and all other people who helped in any way to make this book possible.
